Best Practices of the Institution -Academic Year, 2021-22

Best Practice - 1

Title of the practice: Skill Development

Objectives of the Practice

- To enhance the employability of students by offering necessary skills and training
- To raise confidence, and self-esteem and improve the efficiency of the students
- To build creativity, inquisitiveness, and leadership skills in the students.

The Context

The dynamic and competitive world of today demands more than just excellent academia, rather it expects a college graduate to possess add-on skills as well. In an attempt to enhance the employability of its graduates, MCPS has been actively organising skill development courses across different disciplines.

The Practice

- The various departments of the college organise different skill development courses such as Interior Decoration, Language, and Communication Skills, Banking Products & Practices, etc.
- Students are explained in detail about the specifications of the different programs and are free to register for any course as per their interests.
- The curriculum of these courses is so designed that it fills the gap between academics and the demands of the industry and corporate sector.

Evidence of Success

- The number of placements in various industries and corporates has increased considerably.
- The number of students enrolling in these courses is on the rise.

Resources required

- Entering into collaborations with government organizations that excel in providing vocational training in the concerned fields.
- Requirement of grants/aid for increasing the number of skill development courses and conducting these courses in online mode as well.

Best Practice - 2

Title of the practice: Nurturing Creativity

The Context

Individuals and societies that embrace creativity are at the core of a knowledge-intensive community. MCPS aims to light the creative spark of its students in various fields like art and craft, literature, music, drama, etc., and then systematically direct them to vocational ends. The creativity of the students is nurtured through a set of planned activities carried out in an academic year.

Objectives of the practice

- To foster the creativity of the students.
- To develop the ability to think out of the box and find new possibilities while gaining confidence in their abilities.
- To help students grow into creative and critical thinkers.

The Practice

- Several interdepartmental and inter-college level competitions/events (Literary, Art, Music, Dance) are organized frequently. The guidelines are issued by the event coordinator of each event and are duly executed.
- The institution's Art and Craft resource center guides students to vocational ends by providing training in paper craft, glass & canvas painting, stitching, candle making, decoration of pots, Jute bags, etc.

Evidence of Success

- Students won many prizes in different interdepartmental/intercollegiate level competitions (Literary, Art, Music, Dance) held in the academic year.
- An Art and Craft workshop was organized where the students' prepared paintings and hand-made craft items.

Resources required

- Increased Exposure to interuniversity and national-level competitions held in different fields.
- Funds for organizing workshops/interactive sessions with resource persons that enlighten students about different vocational ends they can pursue with academics.
